H. F. HILLENMEYER,
Lexington, Ky.

The work of taking the machinery out of the Valley Mills was begun Tuesday.

Work has been commenced upon the sidewalk from this city to Taylorton, and is being pushed rapidly.

The ladies can have their stamping and pinkings neatly executed by Mrs. W. G.
Goodwin, Third street South Side.

Charles Warner, Louisville, says: "I have used Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia and biliousness; there is nothing to compare with it."

Ed. Harris, a colored carpenter employed at the new "O. F. C." Distillery, had his foot very badly cut, Wednesday morning, by the falling of a heavy timber upon it.

Mr. D. M. Woodson has commenced laying the foundation of a neat cottage residence on the land he purchased recently from Judge L. Hord, two miles from this city, on the Owenton pike.

Mr. James Hughes, who resides on the farm known as the Black place, near the Forks of Elkhorn, in this county, has an apple tree in his orchard which is full of apples of the second crop that are as large as a hen's egg. The cold spell of the first of the week, of course, will prevent their maturing, but they would soon have been ripe.

The L. & N. Railroad Company has commenced the erection of a depot building at the new station, near Mr. James Hearn's gate, four miles and a quarter from this city. The name of the Station will be Jett's, and Mr. James R. Shaw will be the agent. Already eighteen car loads of coal have been sold there this fall, and a steam corn sheller is in operation shelling a car load a day, which is shipped off. As soon as the turnpike from the Versailles pike to Millville, is completed, which will be in about two months, the greater if not all the shipping done from the Glen's Creek distilleries will be from this depot. As soon as the building is completed Jones' Station, which is only a short distance this side, will probably be abolished, and much of the business now done at Ducker's will be transacted there.

He Got a Layover.

A man by the name of W. Haselking bought a ticket for Louisville at the Lexington depot, Wednesday morning, and boarded the train that arrives in this city at 8:10 a. m. When the conductor came around he asked for a layover check for Midway, but was informed that the company gave no layovers and his request could not be complied with. He then refused to give up his ticket and would not pay his fare. When the train arrived at Midway the conductor procured the services of the town Marshal, went into the car and again demanded the ticket, which Haselking still refused to give up. The conductor then told him to leave the train, but he said he would not do that either and the conductor took him by the arm, saying he would assist him off, when he reached behind him and drew his pistol, which was not unlooked for. At this move the Marshal of Midway stepped up, took him in tow on the charge of carrying concealed weapons, and marched him off the train. He will now have the pleasure of paying about fifty dollars for his fun, but he got a layover. It would have been cheaper to have paid his fare.

To The Dry Goods Merchants of Frankfort:

GENTLEMEN: It is the urgent request of the many clerks you have employed that you give them the necessary freedom becoming every working man in the United States, to wit: By closing all places of business where dry goods are kept and sold, except Saturday night, promptly at six o'clock, P. M. We do not see the true benefit derived by the employers in keeping open said houses after that time, as the amount saved, which is now paid for bad light alone, will sufficiently and abundantly repay you to comply with the request of your many clerks.

Signed,
MANY CLERKS.

$100 Reward

Is offered for any case of Catarrh that can't be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally. Price 75 cents.

There is a great complaint among the residents of some portions of the city, especially on High street, at the lateness of the hour at which the gas on the streets is lighted. It is often after seven o'clock before they have light and the walking is rendered dangerous thereby.

Manager George O. Morris, of "The World," carries with him two entire sets of scenery, one for the largest Opera Houses in the country, and one for small halls. The small set, used here, is just as complete, and insures the production of every scene, without cutting or mutilation, at Capital Hall.

Mr. J. E. Rodgers, of the firm of J. F.
Ponder & Co., Louisville, has opened out a splendid stock of watches, jewelry, and silver-plated ware in the Singer Sewing Machine Office, on the corner of Main and Ann streets, where he can be found at all times, ready to sell the finest goods at the lowest cash prices, or exchange them for old gold and silver. Call and see him.

In the case of the Planter's National Bank of Louisville against J. W. Bachelor and his sureties, Messrs. Stephen Black, R. P. Pepper, G. W. Gwin and A. C. Keenon, of this city, and Zeb. Ward, of Arkansas, in the Louisville Court of Common Pleas Wednesday, judgment was obtained by the Bank for $50,000. This suit was brought by the Bank to compel Mr. Bachelor, who was Cashier, to make good a portion of the amount stolen by Louis Rehm, the Teller, several years ago. There have been six trials of the case already, once in the Court of Appeals, and it will likely go there again.

It is said that there are stored in two business houses alone in this city from fifteen to twenty kegs of gunpowder, and in others more or less. This is explosive material enough to blow the whole town into eternity, and should be removed at once to some secure place. The State has a magazine on the Arsenal Hill which is not used, and the merchants would doubtless be allowed to place it there free of charge.
If there is not a city ordinance against dealers keeping so large a stock in the city, one should be enacted at once, for not only the property of every citizen is in danger but lives of the people are constantly jeopardized while it remains, for at any moment a spark or a cigar thrown carelessly down may spring this mine.

Albert Reed, of color, was exercising his cursing propensity, on the corner of Main and St. Clair streets, Monday morning, when Mr. Geo. B. Macklin came along and told him to stop swearing, but instead of obeying he turned his attention to Mr.
Macklin and applied all the abusive epithets to him which he could command, and as that gentleman drove off in his buggy followed him up the street, picked up a stone and threatened to strike him with it.
Officer Rupe appeared on the scene at this point and arrested Reed, who refused to go with him, and the officer was compelled to use his stick upon him when he broke away and ran, but was induced to return by the persuasive argument of a pistol aimed at him, and was finally lodged in the workhouse. Tuesday morning Squire Bohannon awarded him fifty days in the work-house, and when taken back there became so unruly as to require irons to be put on him.

"The World" is a Capital Hall show.

A Card.

Editor Roundabout:

In response to a call made upon me through the columns of your paper to become a candidate for Councilman, I will say that while I am deeply sensible of the honor my friends desire to confer upon me, I am compelled to decline making the race for the reason that my private business requires my whole time and attention. I would respectfully suggest my friend, Mr. Andrew Salender, as a suitable person to fill the position.

Respectfully,
L. WEITZEL.
